Primary care:

We will no longer attempt to calculate the number of students going into primary care because we cannot tell how many of the people who train in internal medicine will eventually go into primary care versus specialty care. In addition, there is an emerging trend to create merged residencies or other programs that do not allow easy categorization. These numbers are our best effort to reflect the spirit of this request.

Family Medicine: 1

Internal Medicine: 47

Pediatrics: 11

Medicine/Pediatrics: 2

Obstetrics/Gynecology: 6

We anticipate the need to reevaluate the statistical categories above as these trends continue. Currently, where needed, specialty subcategories were combined to the most logical destination.
