

Building Pathways Back to California

Student Voice Survey

The California Medicine Coalition is conducting a research study to understand the perspectives of Black and Latine medical students regarding future residency decisions. Your voice will help share the design and advocacy for new supports for students pursuing primary care and improve health access for medically underserved communities in California.

Please take this 15-20 minute confidential survey to:

- Help the project center Black and Latine student experiences and voices
- Shape the design of residency pathways and supports for future medical students
- Be considered for follow-up virtual focus groups with a $100 stipend per participant
